LOCAL OPTION MASS MEETING

Large Audience Hears Dr. Young at Assembly Hall.

A great mass meeting in the interest of Local Option was held in Assembly Hall Tuesday evening. Following the singing of a spirited chorus entitled: "Pennsylvania Shall be Free," prayer by Rev. E. L. Eslinger of Saxton, the lifting of a cash offering amounting to forty dollars, and the rendition of a male quartette entitled "Drifting," the speaker, Rev. G. W. Young, D. D., of Louisville, Ky., was introduced by the chairman, Rev. F. W. Biddle.

From the standpoint of argument Dr. Young's address was unanswerable and well has he been termed the "Henry Clay" of the present century.

The points specially dwelt upon by the speaker were: The elimination of the saloon-keeper is desired because of his usurpation of a power not inherent but used only for selfish gain. The elimination of womanhood whose inalienable right is that of privilege to decide by ballot on moral issues if she so desire. (Speaker did not especially advocate woman's suffrage save on moral questions.) The elimination of the boys.

Home protection for the unprotected boy! The open saloon removed under Local Option, an advantage regardless of the cry of "Blind Tiger" rule.

Out of a life rich in experience in reform work Dr. Young carried his audience to a high point of interest and enthusiasm, touching every phase of the subject as related to the economic condition of society where prohibitory law is in effect, and proving beyond question the advantage of such government in the interest "of the people, for the people and by the people."

Few platform speakers have the ability to hold the undivided attention of such a large audience as that of Tuesday evening as did Dr. Young, whose wit and humor served his purpose finely in the points made.

To the delight of all the Juniata Quartette sang "Down in the Licensed Saloon" with fine effect, after which Rev. Eslinger made public the commitment of both John W. Huff and S. J. N. Four as "No License" candidates for the Associate Judge nomination on the Democratic and Republican tickets respectively. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. A. Eyer which closed the memorable evening's meeting.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Communication From Our Regular Correspondent

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE

Charges Republican Leaders With Breaking Campaign Pledges on the Tariff.

Washington, D. C., June 2.—Quoting from President Taft's campaign pledges to prove his argument that the present revision of the tariff was but a bunco game for the benefit of the Trusts, Senator LaFollette worked himself up to such a pitch of indignation in today's heat that the Senate, for the first time in its history, this afternoon took a recess of 30 minutes in order that an impassioned orator might recover his breath.

The Senator centered his argument largely on the evidence that since the enactment of the Dingley law and until 1904 the control of Trusts has been extended to 8,664 plants, with a capital of more than $20,000,000,000.

Senator LaFollette began his speech against the pending tariff bill about noon. He started off with great enthusiasm and gestured with much vehemence and shook his head in emphasis, all the time pacing to and fro, gradually increasing the scope of territory until he walked across half of the Democratic side. Never before has he manifested such intensity. He often shook his clenched fist in defiance of those who disliked him and his course.

Favor Angers Aldrich Man

LaFollette had been speaking for more than two hours, when his almost exhausted condition became apparent to Senator Money, who, offered to request that he be granted time to recover himself. Mr. Hale, who was on watch duty, said there could be no objection and the Vice President announced the recess without a motion being put.

The recess was taken and then, while Democratic and progressive Republican Senators crowded about in congratulation, other members of the Finance Committee and Senators generally came crowding back into the chamber to find out what the adjournment men. Most of Hale's colleagues on the Finance Committee and other reactionaries got hotter than ever when they learned what Hale had done. They told him, in diplomatic language, that he was a fool and an easy mark. He ought to have refused his assent to Money's motion and compelled LaFollette to go on with his tirade against the Finance Committee or abandon the floor to some one else. LaFollette should have been shown no favor.

It is said Senator Penrose was especially indignant at Hale's courtesy to the most aggressive and troublesome of the insurgents. Penrose hates and despises LaFollette because of the latter's attack on himself some months ago.

Mrs. LaFollette was in the gallery, and the Senator sent her a reassuring message and retired to his room and rested until the recess expired. In resuming his speech, LaFollette said:

Taunts Sherman With Bunco

"President Taft, realizing some of the shortcomings of the Chicago platform, went before the people and, in some measure, made a platform, and what he said constitutes a species of contract and an obligation upon the Senate and the House that they cannot disregard."

Looking about the chamber and into the faces of Senators, he remarked:

"It is all right for Senators to

GREAT FARM COUNTRY

Secretary of Agriculture Recommends Gulf Coast Region.

While on a trip to the Texas gulf coast country Secretary of Agriculture Wilson said:

"The coast country is immense. That expresses it in a word it is simply immense. But a most singular development appears here. You are preparing to handle the products of several states back of you, and yet, within an hour's ride you have thousands of acres of the finest land in the world today—land that will raise anything—unsettled, unused, for sale cheap. I have never encountered such a condition anywhere else, for, as a rule, land in the suburbs of the great cities is worth $150 to $400 an acre. Within recent years a few people have taken advantage of this opportunity. They have bought lands in this Coast Country, and they are making money and lots of it."

G. Meade Gibson will lecture on "Texas" with especial reference to this section in the Court House this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock. It will prove interesting and instructive. It is free and all are invited.

Mr. E. C. Gorman, the land commissioner, will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Bedford, June 5, 7 and 8. He will be glad to see anyone interested in knowing more about the Texas gulf coast country.

General Eldership

The General Eldership of the Churches of God met in Ft. Scott, Kan., on May 20. The opening sermon was preached by Dr. C. H. Roney of Harrisburg, who has edited the "Advocate" for forty-three years. He refused to accept another term and Dr. S. G. Yahn of Mt. Pleasant was elected editor.

The Eldership was attended by some ninety delegates, including those who attended the missionary convention. Rev. F. W. McGuire of Saxton was one of the delegates from this Eldership and Mrs. McGuire was a delegate to the missionary society. Rev. McGuire was a member of the Executive Board, the highest judicial body of the General Eldership. During the last four years it had more work than at any time during its history. After a lengthy discussion which occupied an entire day, the report was unanimously adopted and the entire board unanimously re-elected. He also served as Chairman of the Temperance Committee and one of the important special committees, and was a member of the committee that revised the constitution.

STATE SABBATH LAWS

Their True Purpose and Value, if Understood.

State Sabbath laws are not designed to make people religious. Real religion is a life from God. It is implanted by the Holy Spirit. Law never gives life; it never can. Law can only protect life and give it an opportunity to grow. Every form of life is protected. This is one of the great principles on which God framed the universe.

There is something we call "life" in the kernel of corn and in the nut, but so shielded that nothing can injure it. The tender little sprout, when it first grows from the seed, is protected by the earth in which the seed is planted. And as the life in the plant or tree becomes more valuable, the protection is more adequate in the multiplied layers of woody fibre.

Animal life receives still more protection. This is seen in the structure of the body, protecting the more vital parts; in the instinct of self-preservation, in the mother's defence of her young, and in the wonderful change of color in many animals and birds, enabling them with the change of seasons to hide more easily from their enemies. All this shows the mind of the Creator. He has filled His universe with laws made to protect life.

Human life is guarded with special care. Both Divine and civil law declare that "whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed."

The life of a nation is still more sacred. To attempt to injure our President is a far greater offense than to make an attack upon an ordinary citizen. And the nation in the defence of its life may sacrifice any amount of treasure, and call upon its best citizens to stand in the line of battle. This is right. We glory in it.

Nor can it be imagined that when all life is protected—vegetable, animal, human and national—that the very highest form of life known in this world will be exposed to all possible assaults unshielded! Can it be that spiritual life, that Divinely implanted thing, is the only form of life to be exposed to the attacks of every foe?

Think how weak this spiritual life is at its beginning. God calls it a new birth. We are spiritually little babes. It is often so very weak as to be almost unrecognized. But it is the most valuable form of life; its possibilities are greater; it endures longer; its influence upon the world is more blessed. Indeed, it beautifies and glorifies every other form of life. And no one can imagine the wonderful perfection to which in eternity it will attain. Yet it has enemies. They are a thousand to one that any other form of life is required to meet.

If, then, it is a law of the universe that all life, according to its value and the perils to which it is exposed, must receive protection, we cannot think that this alone of all forms of life must be thrust out to meet those foes with not a finger raised to shield it.

Now, the purpose of the civil Sabbath law is simply to give this form of life protection. It does not command any man to be religious. But if God has implanted the religious life in any working man's heart, the law says to any corporation, "Stand back, and let that spiritual life grow and become strong," when in its greed it would exact seven days' work each week, and thus crush out all religion from that man's heart.

The Sabbath law is the fence around the garden. It has no part in making the garden or putting in the seed, but it protects what may be planted in the soil by the Spirit of God, and keeps out that which would trample upon it and destroy it.

The only question, then, is to make this protection, all things considered,

FAIR EXCHANGE

A New Back for an Old One. How it Can be Done in Bedford.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless, piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Bedford residents would do well to profit by the following example:

Mrs. D. F. Bartholow, Water St., Hyndman, Pa., says: "I never will forget the benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills. I had been in poor health for a long time and I suffered from pains in my back and sides. I was subject to chills and spells of dizziness and my general health was much run down. I finally got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time the symptoms of my trouble had entirely disappeared. I am glad to recommend a remedy of such great merit as Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

entirely adequate. It must secure the privilege of rest and worship to the humblest working man. But experience has demonstrated that "liberty of rest for each depends upon a law of rest for all."

With this view of its purpose, we can understand why the law must prohibit all recreations and sports upon the Sabbath that would in any way disturb the quiet of the day. The law asks no man to engage in worship, but to the humblest citizen who desires such a privilege it secures the right to undisturbed worship, both public and private. Spiritual life is not protected without such guarantees. Worship is the food and exercise by which spiritual life is developed. Any Sabbath law fails completely if it fails here.

Those who understand clearly the purpose of the Sabbath law will never lend their influence to weaken it. On the contrary, they will try to perfect it and strengthen it, and always stand for its defence. Objections are easily answered when it is seen that the State Sabbath law is not an attempt to make people religious, but is merely the carrying out of a principle which is most fundamental and important in the universe—the protection of life.—Rev. Washington R. Laird, Ph. D.

MEN PAST FIFTY IN DANGER

Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's Kidney Remedy, especially for enlarged prostate gland, which is very common among elderly men. L. E. Morris, Dexter, Ky., writes: "Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it enlargement of the prostate gland and advised an operation. On account of his age we were afraid he could not stand it and I recommended Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the first bottle relieved him, and after taking the second bottle he was no longer troubled with this complaint." Ed. D. Heckerman.

THE MAN WHO SULK

The world has little pity and few favors to be spent. For the man who is disgruntled and sits sulking in his tent; If your ventures have not prospered do not idly curse your luck. But get out and make the people wonder at your manly pluck.

Men will never come to coax you, if you hang back in despair, To have courage and keep trying to put off the frown you wear; They will not arrange new chances to replace the ones you lose While you haunt a gloomy corner clinging to a case of blues

They are foolishly self-cheated who keep harping on their woes After they have been defeated, thinking all men are their foes, And the praise the world is willing to bestow is never meant For the man who is disgruntled and sits sulking in his tent.—S. E. Kiser in Chicago Record-Herald.

The first application of Manzan, the great Pile remedy, will almost instantly give relief. Continued use of Manzan for a few days will effect a cure. The tube in which it is put up has a small nozzle attached, so that there is no inconvenience whatever. Manzan is for the cure of any kind of Piles. It is sold here by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Sometimes you may be told that there are other things just as good as DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. That isn't so. Nothing made is as good as DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills for any ailments of the kidney or bladder, which always result in weak back, backache, rheumatic pains, rheumatism and urinary disorders. A trial of DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills is sufficient to convince you how good they are. Send your name to E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, for a free trial box. They are sold here by all druggists.

To Prevent Bitter Rot

To discover bitter rot examine the trees in the orchard systematically, following the rows and making the sharpest possible search for the rot spots on the apple. As a rule, the first infection will be found on the upper surface of the apple, therefore, it is best to make the examination from an elevated position. A good and quick method is to drive between the rows with a spraying outfit, having two men on the operating platform, a man looking at each side.

After the infected trees have been located, trace all of the diseased apples until the cankered limb, which is the source of infection, has been found. The infected limb should be removed and burned. Do this cautiously, so as not to spread infection. Wash the saw or pruning shears with a disinfectant of turpentine or with a five per cent. solution of formalin in water. Spray with Bordeaux Mixture, three pounds bluestone, four pounds lime and 50 gallons water, as soon as the blossoms fall and repeat this three or four times at intervals of two weeks.—J. A. Surface, Division of Zoology.

Foley's Honey and Tar is especially recommended for chronic throat and lung troubles and many sufferers from bronchitis, asthma and consumption have found comfort and relief by using Foley's Honey and Tar. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Household Notes

A piece of flannel dampened with spirits of camphor will remove stains from mirrors or window glass.

Black lead mixed with vinegar will be found to give a specially good polish to the kitchen stove.

Honey should be kept in the dark. If exposed to light it will quickly granulate.

One level teaspoonful of salt will season one quart of soup, sauce or vegetables.

One cupful of sugar will sweeten one quart of any mixture to be served chilled or frozen.

To clean silver, mix sweet oil and whiting to the thickness of a cream, put on with a soft cloth, wash in hot soapsuds and polish with a chamois skin or a piece of old soft linen.

When blowing out a candle hold it high and blow upward to keep the grease from running about.

Table linen, in order to bring out the bright gloss that makes it attractive, should be dampened considerably before being ironed.

Pieces of old velveteen should be washed and used for polishing. They are an excellent substitute for chamois leather and may be washed as easily as an ordinary duster.

Candle ends melted with an equal quantity of turpentine added make an excellent polish for floors, oilcloths, etc. This polish costs almost nothing and is often considered superior to beeswax and turpentine.

To cook a ham so as to retain all its flavor encase the ham with a paste of flour and water, taking care to completely cover the ham so that the steam cannot escape. Bake in a hot oven, allowing a quarter of an hour for every pound. When cooked the paste can easily be taken off, taking all the rind with it. A ham cooked in this way is delicious.

Summer coughs and colds are obstinate and difficult to cure. The most prompt method is to take something pleasant which will gently move the bowels; a good laxative cough syrup. Bees Laxative Cough Syrup will surely and promptly cure your cold. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Good Combination

A black broadcloth skirt, black velvet, satin or ottoman coat with Napoleonic collar and cuffs, embroidered with gold and the inevitable pleated jabot and high neck ruche with the towering hat, nodding with rich feathers, strike the high water mark of this season's styles.

"Doan's Ointment cured me of eczema that had annoyed me a long time. The cure was permanent."—Hon. S. W. Matthews, Commissioner Labor Statistics, Augusta, Me.

Oyster-Shell Scale

The Oyster-shell scale, like the Scurfy and Lecanium, is not nearly so dangerous as the San Jose. It does not spread so quickly, multiply so rapidly, nor is it nearly so injurious to the plants on which it is found. As a rule it is most often found on lilacs, Carolina or Lombardy poplar, soft maple, willow, ash and apple trees. It quite often becomes injurious on young poplars, and may cause death unless the above means, or some others, as scraping, etc., are taken to rid the trees of this pest. Like the San Jose scale and other scale insects, it can be killed wherever reached by painting the infested bark, at any time of year, with a paint brush dipped into a soap solution of any kind made as thick as house paint.

NASAL CATARRH

F. W. Jordan Sells the Great Remedy That Cured Mrs. Karberg.

Here is a very simple yet wholly sincere statement of a Michigan woman, who was cured by using Hyomei—the no cure no pay remedy for catarrh, asthma, hay fever, croup, coughs and colds.

"A bad case of catarrh was cured for me by the use of Hyomei. The trouble affected my head, nose and eyes, and was very annoying and disagreeable, and the cure, from the use of Hyomei, was very gratifying. Hyomei has from me a strong recommendation and endorsement."—Mrs. E. Karberg, 213 Kingsley St., Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 16, 1908.

Thousands of just such letters are in existence, and thousands more would be but for the desire to avoid publicity.

If you have catarrh, bestir yourself, and drive it out of your system. Kill the germs. You can do that easily if you use Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me).

It is a dry, antiseptic and very pleasant air, that when inhaled, quickly relieves all forms of catarrhal inflammation, stops snuffles, hawking and blowing. The price for a complete outfit, including inhaler, is only $1.00 at F. W. Jordan's.

MI-ONA Cures Indigestion

It relieves stomach misery, sour stomach, belching, and cures all stomach disease or money back. Large box of tablets 50 cents. Druggists in all towns.

THE HOME

If fat catches fire throw salt on it at once to prevent a disagreeable smell.

Toast should always be thin and crisp. Cut the slices from a stale loaf, and dry in the oven before toasting them.

Do not peel rhubarb until the skin is tough. It will call for less sugar to sweeten it if a pinch of soda is added while it is being cooked.

Save sour milk in any quantity, large or small, for it is so useful for cakes. With sour milk use carbonate of soda instead of baking powder.

Examine the bread pan three times a week in case crumbs left in should become moldy. These would speedily affect the whole contents of the pan.

The dish cloth should have more attention than is usually bestowed on it. Boiling in soda water once or twice a week will keep it perfectly sweet and clean.

Tomatoes should be skinned before being used for salad. To do this easily, place the fruit in a basin and pour boiling water over. Drain at once and the skin will come off without any trouble.

Colds that hang on weaken the constitution and develop into consumption. Foley's Honey and Tar cures persistent coughs that refuse to yield to other treatment. Do not experiment with untried remedies as delay may result in your cold settling on your lungs. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Supervising the Rural Routes

In the past three years the rural routes have been carefully gone over with a view to overcoming adverse conditions. Many routes have been re-arranged by extension, curtailment or consolidation with other routes, and in cases where there was not sufficient patronage and the situation could not otherwise be relieved, the service has been reduced from daily to tri-weekly, or withdrawn entirely and the old postoffice-service restored. This procedure has placed the rural delivery system upon a business-like basis.

The supervision of the service by the department requires a force of one hundred and sixteen employees. There were sent out from the division during the last fiscal year 631,202 pieces of mail matter, and nearly as many communications were received.—Asst. Postmaster General P. V. De Graw, in the National Magazine for June.

Pineules—new Kidney remedy—are for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder. They act promptly in all cases of lame back, rheumatic pains, inflammation of the bladder, urinary disorders and weak kidneys. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Crisp Pastry

The shells, as well as the filling, for tarts and pies, such as lemon, etc., must be entirely cold before the filling is put in. The meringue may be put on and browned in the oven as usual. You will always have a crisp crust, never become sodden, if the above rules are followed.

To avoid serious results take Foley's Kidney Remedy at the first sign of kidney or bladder disorder such as backache, urinary irregularities, exhaustion, and you will soon be well. Commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy today. Ed. D. Heckerman.

INSTEAD OF BAKING POWDER

Cream of Tartar and Soda Mixed is a Good Substitute.

The modern housewife is so accustomed to the use of baking powder that when it unexpectedly gives out she fails to remember that cream of tartar and soda mixed is an excellent substitute.

Should a recipe call for baking powder you can use instead one level teaspoonful of soda to two of cream of tartar.

It is important in making biscuits or anything that calls for these ingredients to see that the oven is ready before the articles to be baked are ready to go in it. The oven can wait without injury, the dough never.

To get the best success with baking powder batters or dough they should be quickly mixed and go into the oven immediately. A moderate temperature is best, as too hot an oven will burn while the bottom of the biscuit is raw. Too slow an oven tends to heaviness and toughness.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolicized Witch Hazel Salve—DeWitt's is the original. Be sure you get DeWitt's Carbolicized Witch Hazel Salve when you ask for it. It is good for cuts, burns and bruises, and is especially good for Piles. Sold by all druggists.

WIDOW TABOR'S HOG.

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1909, by T. C. McClure.]

When Silas Strong, old bachelor, bought a farm in the outskirts of the village of Fowlerville and set up his bachelor's hall he was at peace with all mankind. Two weeks later he was rushing to and fro with a pitchfork in his hands seeking the life of a strange hog that had invaded his premises. For four years the Widow Tabor, down in the village, had owned a hog. For three years an animal had been known as "the widow's hog," to distinguish him from the half hundred other hogs permitted to meander around. The villagers told tales about that hog. He was tall and long and rangy. He was ever hungry. He was a fighter. He was a destroyer of gardens and the happiness of the owners thereof. He deserved death by the hands of gun, ax or club, but he had been spared because he was owned by a widow.

The widow's hog had waited a reasonable length of time and then paid a visit to the newcomer and rooted up half an acre of potatoes. Silas Strong was slow to anger, but he couldn't stand that. After vainly trying to catch the hog he set himself to locate the owner. When this had been done he put on his Sunday suit and made a call. He had the damages figured up and knew just what he was going to say. The Widow Tabor wasn't expecting him, but she was not a bit frustrated. Mr. Strong had hardly begun his story of infamy on the part of the hog when he was interrupted with:

"Dear, dear me, but I am so sorry. I wish he wouldn't act this way. Mr. Strong, I have just been making some elderberry wine, and I wish you would give me your opinion on it."

When he had done so she asked another opinion about blackberry jam, and from that she insisted that he sample a custard pie, and when he finally started home he had forgiven the hog and had a good opinion of the widow. These sentiments were not lasting. Only a week had passed when the same hog tore his way through a stout fence and did some more rooting.

Silas Strong was stirred to the uttermost by the outrage. The widow and the hog shared his invectives alike. As soon as he could get his breath and breakfast, he set out for the village.

He may have been expected, for the door was opened to him with a sweet smile, and before he could utter a word the widow said:

"I am very glad to see you. One of the legs of the cook stove has fallen out, and I do wish you'd fix it for me."

The leg was no sooner in place than the widow mentioned that she was afraid the "mother" in the vinegar barrel on the sunny side of the house was dead, and she took Silas out to see. He gave his opinion, and then she asked his advice about keeping Leghorn chickens instead of Brahmas, and the upshot was that he went away without bringing the thunders of heaven upon her head. He got as far as to say that the hog had paid him another visit, but she changed the conversation to the coming circus, and he found himself on his way home in a puzzled frame of mind. He wanted to forgive the widow without forgiving the hog, but as they seemed to be one and inseparable how was it to be brought about? Silas bothered over this matter for ten days and then got up one morning to find another battlefield before his eyes. The widow's hog had made the third unannounced visit. He had rooted up the soil, and he had chewed up things. He had spared neither age nor sex. It was simply a gigantic case of malicious trespass and deserved death at once. As Silas could not catch him and administer the death stroke, he took a bite to eat and then started for Liverpool, a village five miles away. As soon as he got there he laid the widow and the hog and the trespass before the lawyer, and when the latter had got the details he said:

"It's the plainest case I ever had. The hog has got to die."

Silas Strong felt an elation as he started for home. The law was behind him, and the law was to vindicate him. He had given the widow and her hog a chance, but they had not taken advantage of it. At the end of a mile or so, however, this elation began to lose its edge, and ten minutes later he was wishing that he hadn't been so prompt. Durn the hog, but Mrs. Tabor was a widow. She had given him pleasant greeting. She had asked his advice. She had fed him custard pie. She may have been left that hog as a heritage, and she couldn't be expected to either kill him or follow him around nights. Silas was feeling rather ashamed of his movements when he came upon a female sitting on the bank of the highway and weeping. Standing in the middle of the road was an old horse and buggy belonging to a party in Fowlerville. The harness had broken, and the outfit had come to a standstill. The woman was recognized at once as the Widow Tabor. As Silas descended from his rig she rose up and tearfully welcomed him.

It was the duty of Silas Strong to comfort her. He did his duty, some of it with an arm around her waist. He had forgotten hogs and lawyers and cases of trespass when he saw a man driving up whom he recognized as a constable. He was on his way to Fowlerville to serve the summons.

"Might as well turn around," announced Silas.

"But why?"

"A feller can't sue his own wife, can he?"

And the constable sighed and drove on.

Man With the Conundrum.
The man with the fretful eyebrows and the sorrowful ears comes to the desk of the man with the dispirited mustache and asks:

"Why is a man who goes on an expedition to discover the south pole and after many months of toil and privation during which he eats all his canned goods and half of his dogs and then returns to civilization with a fixed appetite for boot heels and hat brims—why is he like a woman who has been waiting impatiently since midnight for the sound of the latch-key as her husband endeavors to unlock the front door without awakening the entire neighborhood?"

The man with the discouraged mustache shakes his head impatiently, and the other repeats the question, whereupon the man with the discouraged mustache asks:

"What is the difference between a lady reading a hair restorer ad. and a man who asks fool questions when you are busy? Answer—Because they are both about ready to die."

"Oh, very well!" sniffs the man with the fretful eyebrows and the sorrowful ears. The answer to mine is that both are getting ready to deliver a lecture, but I wouldn't tell you if you pleaded with tears in your eyes."

And with a haughty tread he departs.—Chicago Post.

Stevenson and Dreams.

Robert Louis Stevenson owed much of his inspiration to dreams. In one passage he attributed some of his finest work to the "brownies" who tented his brain during moments of unconsciousness. "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" owes its origin to a dream. "I had long been trying to write a story on this subject," writes Stevenson, "to find a body, a vehicle, for that strong sense of man's double being which must at times come in upon and overwhelm the mind of every thinking creature. For two days I went about racking my brains for a plot of any sort, and on the second night I dreamed the scene at the window and a scene afterward split in two, in which Hyde, pursued for some crime, took the powder and underwent the change in the presence of his pursuers. All the rest was made awake and consciously, although I think I can trace in much of it the manner of my brownies."

Double Quick Composing.

Sir Arthur Sullivan wrote the overture to "The Yeomen of the Guard" in twelve hours and that to "Iolanthe" in less space of time—from 9 p. m. to 7 a. m. But even this capacity for speed in composition is eclipsed by M. Bonnard, who for a wager composed the music to a song in ten minutes. Mr. N. Trotere, however, is the composer of whom most quick time anecdotes are told. His beautiful song "Asthore" was both written and composed in forty minutes in Blanchard's restaurant. The melody of "In Old Madrid" was the result of a sudden inspiration. It came to the composer while on his way home from the aquarium. Lest it should escape him he rushed into a small public house in Rochester row, seized a biscuit bag and on it jotted down the air. But Mr. Trotere holds the championship. It is said that he actually composed "The Brow of the Hill" wrote a letter and ran 400 yards to post it in eight minutes.—Dundee Advertiser.

Odd Names in China.

Chinese children are endowed with strange Christian names. Their girls, for instance, are not called Mabel, Jenny or Matilda, but Cloudy Moon, Celestial Happiness, Spring Peach or Basket of Perfumes. Their boys get less attractive names, being made for work and wisdom rather than pleasure and dancing. Thus we find a little two-year-old Practical Industry; three-year-old, Ancestral Knowledge; four-year-old, Complete Virtue; five-year-old, Discreet Valor. To their slaves they give still another set of names. Not For Me, Joy to Serve, Your Happiness and Humble Devotion may be taken as typical examples.

Harold Chose the Easier Way.

Maynard had been naughty, and his father, after showing him his fault, had sent him up to his room to ask God to forgive him for being a bad boy. Three-year-old Harold was present, but seemed to take no notice of the conversation. It was his turn, however, before many days to receive punishment, and his father took him across his knee. "Oh, don't, papa," he said. "I would rather go upstairs and pray."—Delineator.

A Sign.

Whenever you hear people referring to any one as "an original genius" you may be sure that they are prepared to make excuses for him.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Were it not for hope the heart would break.—Irish Proverb.

Picturesque Japanese Peasants.

The most characteristic scenery in Japan is not the mountain, on which few Japanese dwell, but the rice field, which is to be found wherever there is a patch of level ground, for the field and sufficient water for irrigation. Gentle slopes are made useful by terracing, and the coolly, preparing the ground or cutting his crop, is the true Japanese peasant. He is a picturesque peasant in his blue cotton suit, his broad, conical straw hat and straw overcoat. He is a good natured peasant, absurdly contented with his earnings, though the agricultural laborer earns as little as 8 or 10 cents gold a day. His house is a light wooden frame surmounted by a heavy thatch, and he loves to plant a lily garden along his rooftop. But he always has one thing which separates him from the Chinese and the East Indian—he lives on a platform raised above the ground. No hardened soil for him, no cally pavement or brick or stone. A wooden floor, a piece of clean matting, a broom and a bathtub the poorest Japanese will always have.—Tokyo Letter to Boston Transcript.

A Deceptive Air.

The Bushby storekeeper surveyed Mr. Leonard with a contemplative eye and then turned his gaze toward Jimmy Sloane, who was putting packages into the delivery wagon. Jimmy had the leisurely air of one with plenty of time at his disposal.

"You want to know how he'd be for your business down below?" said Mr. Gregg slowly.

"Yes," said the visitor. "I noticed him yesterday, when that crowd of young fellows were getting the piano into the hall; he seemed to work harder than any of the others. It occurred to me he might like a bigger chance than he has here."

"M-m," said the storekeeper. "Well, now, I can't say as to that, of course, but as to his working harder than any of the other boys, I'll tell you what they say, and you can believe it or not, just as you choose."

"They all like Jimmy, for he's first rate company, but the truth is that when it comes to lifting, or such work, Jimmy's all take holt and mighty little h'ist."—Youth's Companion.

Dark Walls Best For Illumination.

Some scientists who have been making investigations into the part played in the matter of illumination by light and dark walls have come to the conclusion that the dark walls are better fitted for good illumination than the light. In a room where the walls are dark and where the source of light is entirely behind the reader's field of vision a person who reads is impressed with the idea that the room is excellently well illuminated, but if now another light is brought into the room and placed within the field of his vision, though not shining on the paper he is reading, the pupils of his eyes will contract, less light will enter them from the paper he reads, and the reader will be impressed with the idea that the illumination has been reduced and the paper is becoming darker. These scientists say that the experiments show that if the walls are light colored the efficiency of the illumination may actually be diminished.—Pathfinder.

The Picture in Disguise.

Of the strange vicissitudes through which many of the world's famous pictures have passed perhaps none was odder than that of "The Picture in Disguise," a magnificent painting that now adorns the residence of Lord Leigh in Warwickshire, England. This remarkable picture for many years appeared to be merely a painting of flowers. The floral study was, however, finally pronounced by an astute art dealer to be in reality a mask for another painting. With the permission of the owner he caused the painting of flowers gradually to be removed, whereupon there was discovered underneath a very fine portrait of Charles I. by Van Dyck. While no authentic record of this masterpiece has been found, it is supposed that the portrait was disguised by some royalist in order to guard against its destruction by Roundheads during the revolution.—Boston Post.

Bonheur's Humor.

Mlle. Rosa Bonheur (Rosa stood for Rosalie) was not without a sense of humor, so it is told of her that when presiding over a school of design in Paris, the pupils being girls, the artist was disgusted with the class because, imitative of their teacher, the young women had cut their hair short. "Goodness," cried Rosa Bonheur, "how horrid you all look! This is not a class of boys. You silly creatures, let your hair alone and do your best so as to retain all the advantages of your sex."

THE FLY

facts Which Every Housewife Ought to Know.

The common house fly is a carrier of disease. Typhoid fever and tuberculosis are carried by flies.

Flies feed on food, and also on filth. They go from the one to the other. In this way they carry disease germs to the table. One fly may convey six million bacteria.

Flies breed in manure heaps, out houses, refuse, ash-pits, and all decomposing animal or vegetable matter, and unclean places. Do not allow decaying material of any sort to accumulate on or near your premises. If such exist, cover with lime or kerosene oil, and remove as early as possible.

See that your sewerage system is in good order.

Screen all food; cover food after a meal; burn all scraps and refuse. Screen all windows and doors.

If there is no filth there will be no flies.—Harper's Weekly.

We do not know of any other pill that is as good as DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little liver pills—small, gentle, pleasant and sure pills with a reputation. Sold by all druggists.

Dairy Notes

Separate good, rich cream, then churn it at a lower temperature.

Milk is used raw, while most other food products are cooked in some way. The very fact that milk is a raw food should stimulate those engaged in its production to the greatest possible care.

Never put warm cream and cold cream together. Use separate cans. Don't say you can't afford it. You are in the dairy business every day in the year. If conducted properly there is money enough in it to buy all the necessary tools.

Milk may be unclean and unfit for use from either internal or external causes. The cow may be diseased or the surroundings and the utensils may be dirty. Trouble may come from disease in the families of workmen engaged about the premises. Epidemics of scarlet fever have been traced to this source.

Our Duty

Do you think none has known but yourself all the pain

Of hopes that retreat and regrets that remain

And all the wide distance fate fixes—no doubt

"Twixt the life that's within and the life that's without?

Which one of us finds the world just as he likes

Or gets what he wants when he wants it or strikes

Without missing the thing that he strikes at the first?

God means us all to be happy, be sure.

He sends us no sorrows that have not some cure.

Our duty down here is to do, not to know.

Live as though life were earnest and life will be so.

—Owen Meredith.

The Birth of the Daisy.

The origin of the daisy is told in the following legend: It was the belief of the Celtic people that when an infant was taken away from earth a flower was sent. A woman, Malvina, lost an infant son, but as she sat brooding and inconsolable her attendants came running in with joyful news. "Oh, Malvina," they cried, "your babe has come back! A wondrous new flower has come to earth; white are its leaves near the heart, but nearer the edges tinted with pink or crimson like an infant's flesh! When the wind waves it on the hillside, behold, 'tis a child playing to and fro!" And Malvina rose and looked upon her flower and no more mourned, saying, "This flower, Malvina's son returned, will comfort all mothers that have lost their infants!"

On the Jump.

"Is it really only ten minutes' walk to the station from your house?" asked Cushman.

"What a ridiculous question!" exclaimed Subbubs. "Nobody in lovely Swamphurst ever 'walks' to the station. I may say, however, that it's only about eight and a half minutes' run."—Catholic Standard and Times.

A Hair Dressing

If you wish a high-class hair dressing, we are sure Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, will greatly please you. It keeps the hair soft and smooth, makes it look rich and luxuriant, prevents splitting at the ends. And it keeps the scalp free from dandruff.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor is a strong tonic, promoting the growth of the hair, keeping all the tissues of the hair and scalp in a healthy condition. The hair stops falling, dandruff disappears. A splendid dressing.

Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Women Should Study Color

The value of color is something that a clever dressmaker understands fully. Two dresses can be cut alike, line for line, but in different shades of the same silk, and one of them will make a woman look slender, straight and supple, and the other will give her an unaccountably dumpy, round-shouldered, square-cut figure. All women ought to make a careful study of colors, whether they have a professional interest in the matter—as I have—or not. It is especially important for women of small means who have so few gowns that they must live with these of their choice very intimately. A woman who can buy twenty or thirty dresses a year can afford to make an occasional mistake when her fancy for a trying color or a too daring line carries her away for a moment. She can hang an unsuccessful dress in a closet and forget about it, and it does her no harm—helps her, perhaps, in choosing more wisely in the future. She does not suffer from her folly. But a woman of small means who meets with a mishap in her choice of her one new gown must wear it whether or no—a harsh commentary on her vanity, her poor judgment or her bad taste. I always want to help women of that kind—the mistakes are so easy to make—so cruelly hard to pay for. Yet one can only tell her to choose carefully and buy slowly.—The Delineator.

To Keep Light Dresses Clean

Magnesia may be obtained either in powder or in square cakes, and it is very effective in cleaning laces and delicate fabrics. Sift or rub it on the parts to be cleaned, and lay them away in a box or drawer where they will be undisturbed for a day or so, and then shake them out. It is a very good plan to apply the magnesia in this way when putting away party dresses that have become slightly soiled. The magnesia absorbs the dust, and when you take the dresses out to wear them the next time, they will be fresh and dainty. The magnesia is also effective, when applied in the same way, for removing grease spots.—Woman's Home Companion for June.

Baby won't suffer five minutes with colic if you apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil at once. It acts like magic.

For Greasy Skin

An excellent thing for a skin inclined to greasiness is to wash it with oatmeal instead of soap. Keep a pot of fine, ordinary oatmeal on the washstand. At night wash the face with warm water, and rub some of the oatmeal well into it, afterward rinsing it well off with plenty of water. Dry thoroughly and carefully with a soft towel. In the morning sponge with fresh cold water. This treatment will also cleanse the skin and help to rid it of blackheads, besides softening it wonderfully.

Regulates the bowels, promotes easy natural movements, cures constipation.—Doan's Regulators. Ask your druggist for them. 25 cents a box.

Some Measurements

In general, one cupful of sugar will sweeten a quart of any frozen mixture.

A level teaspoonful of salt will season a quart of soup.

One teaspoonful of water or milk should be added to each egg, to make an omelet.

One teaspoonful of extract, unless it is unusually strong or weak, will flavor a quart of any frozen dessert or of custard or pudding. These proportions are all subject to slight alterations, according to circumstances. Some flavorings are stronger than others, eggs beat up lighter sometimes than others, and so on. They are given merely as a guide.

WHAT A WOMAN WILL NOT DO

There is nothing a woman would not do to regain her lost beauty. She ought to be fully as zealous in preserving her good looks. The herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine or Lane's Tea is the most efficient aid in preserving a beautiful skin, and will do more than anything else to restore the roses to faded cheeks. At all druggists and dealers, 25c.

A GREAT NEWSPAPER IN FULL MANHOOD

The Philadelphia Record in the Prime of Its Strength at the Age of 39.

That big newspaper, the Philadelphia Record, a few days ago passed the thirty-ninth milestone, and thus reached, according to modern calculations, the full prime and glory of its manhood. Still lusty with the strength and lofty ambitions of youth, it is yet steadied and firmly balanced by long and varied experience, and there is today in the United States no paper more solid, careful and just in all its dealings with the public, nor at the same time any that is more alert.

Representing the opposition in a city overwhelmingly given over to the dominance of the Republican organization of the state, it nevertheless has still, as it has had for many years, the widest circulation in that city of any morning newspaper.

This presents a curious problem, the only explanation of which seems to be that The Record, notwithstanding its political differences with the majority of the people of Philadelphia, is recognized by them as the best newsgiver.

Everyone would be benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for consumption, stomach and liver trouble, as it sweetens the stomach and breath, gently stimulates the liver and regulates the bowels and is much superior to pills and ordinary laxatives. Why not try Foley's Orino Laxative today? Ed D. Heckerman.

Where Tipping is Tabooed

It may be interesting to mention that it is neither customary nor advisable to give tips anywhere west of the Sierra Madre. I did it on two occasions, and in both cases learned to my regret that the waiters became so familiar with the guests, and slack in their services, that they were discharged from their employment by the Mexican proprietor, whose watchful eye discovered the lax attention pretty quickly, and without complaint from the visitors. I felt very uncomfortable about it, for my intended kindness was in both instances the root of the trouble.—From "Beyond the Mexican Sierras," by Dillon Wallace, in The Outing Magazine for June.

The realization that our most troublesome troubles may be dramatized falls like a benediction on the peevish and panting heart.

SELECTING COMMITTEEMEN

At tomorrow's primaries the members of the new Democratic County Committee will be selected. See to it Democrats that live, active men are elected: the matter has been left entirely in your hands. Nomination papers were not filled up for any candidate in any of the voting districts. You, voters of the several districts, know who can best serve you and your party as a member of the County Committee from your district. Get together, select a good man and vote for him.

BE CAREFUL

We are informed that there are agents in a part of this county taking orders for cloth, and with the order, taking the notes of farmers before delivering the goods. While this may be legitimate business it is very dangerous business.

No agent or firm has any right to ask that an article be paid for before it is delivered. We say to our readers—be careful. You have no guarantee that the goods will ever be delivered, and if delivered you have no assurance that the cloth will be "all wool and a yard wide."

Arguing from experiences of farmers and others in this and other counties in the past it is not difficult to arrive at the conclusion that there is danger in making such purchases—there may be "something rotten in the State of Denmark." Instances there have been in which notes have been given for sums, which sums had grown when the notes appeared in bank.

Be careful! Far better buy from home merchants who do not ask pay in advance and who will make good any defects; they are here and you can go to them; but if you go hunting for agents who have duped you you may travel long distances and not find them—they may have followed in the footsteps of others and gone to Canada or to the Klondike.

Walnut Grove Campmeeting

There will be a meeting on the Walnut Grove campground on Wednesday, June 9, at 9 a. m. to make full arrangements for the camp. A hack driver will be selected. Camp opens August 6. Many new features will be added to the camp this year. A returned missionary will be present throughout the camp—Miss Leah Becker, who spent ten years in India. Evangelistic services will be held each evening and these services will be conducted by experienced evangelists.

smile in derision, but it is a pretty serious proposition to get the support of the voters of this country, who have a chance to speak once in four years."

Quoting speeches of the President in support of his contention for a lower tariff, Mr. LaFollette said: "I'll prove to you that you have raised it."

Addressing himself directly to Vice President Sherman, in the chair, he said:

"This is the declaration upon which you and the candidate for the Presidency went before the American people and were elected."

Stands With Blaine

Senator LaFollette went back to Alexander Hamilton and James G. Blaine to prove by their writings that his was the correct protectionist attitude on the tariff. He declared that the government has no warrant for making protective duties for the benefit of improvidence and mismanagement. It is not a governmental function to guarantee business success. The fundamental principle established by Alexander Hamilton was that the protective tariff should be the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad. That policy prevailed until the days of McKinley, when it was enlarged to protect monopolies and trusts.

"I am not a radical," shouted LaFollette. "I am a conservative, and men here now are leading the Republican party into strange fields, upon grounds never before defended and that never can be defended."

Scolds Root for Sneer

While reading a list showing the increase of trusts from 1897 to 1904, Senator Root leaned over and made some remark in a low tone to his neighbor, Mr. Bradley.

"I know this is distasteful to some Republican Senators," said Mr. LaFollette, looking squarely at Mr. Root and pointing his finger at him, "but they need not express it audibly. Any Senator on this floor who represents a Republican constituency and to whom these facts are distasteful does not really and fairly represent his constituency."

Discussing the tariff as manipulated to breed and enrich trusts, LaFollette declared that the combinations of 8,664 plants, with $20,000,000,000 capital, under the Dingley law, was what John Sherman, the framer of the Anti-Trust law, had fought against. He also criticized the Civic Federation, which, he said, claims that the time has come to pull out the teeth of the Sherman Anti-Trust law and to cut off its arms and limbs.

Beef Trust's Grasp

Asserting that 200 manufacturers of shoes came to Washington begging for a hearing before the Committee on Finance because the beef packers were obtaining control of the tanneries, Mr. LaFollette prophesied that the packers would reach out and eventually control not only the tanneries, but all the products of leather.

"I don't expect to see the trusts of this country controlled by the protective tariff," said LaFollette. He added that an international agreement only exists on some products of the United States Steel Corporation.

Saxton

June 3—Misses Elizabeth and Florence Cypher are guests of their brother Frank at New Castle.

British Savings Clubs.

The working people of England are great patrons of savings clubs, all sorts of agencies being created to enable them to save money that they may have to spend during the festive season of the year. There are clubs of all kinds, ranging from the shop club, to which the workmen contribute, to the little clubs run for the purpose of letting school children have a shilling's worth of sweets for a Christmas treat. There is hardly a workshop of any importance in London without its workmen's saving club, besides which there are many dividing clubs carried on at public houses, and the deposits amount in the aggregate to a very large sum. The withdrawals begin in the early days of December, and it is not uncommon for the banks to pay out £300 ($1,460) to £500 ($2,433) to a single club, and the problem of storing the money is one of some difficulty. The amounts have to be divided among many people they are wanted in cash, and in some cases the proportion of gold, silver and copper is specified.

Easter Island.

Easter Island is a lonely Pacific islet, forty-seven square miles in area, entirely volcanic and containing several extinct craters, some of which are more than a hundred feet high, discovered by Roggeveen on Easter Sunday, 1722. Little is known concerning the curious remains which have made the island famous. They consist of more than 500 rudely carved stone statues and busts, varying in height from three to seventy feet and said to be portraits of famous men, not idols. There are also hundreds of stone houses on the island, with painted interiors and incised tablets which, strange to say, have never been deciphered. Between 1860 and 1862 the population, by reason of polyandry and emigration, dwindled to 150 souls, and in 1863 most of these were carried off by the Peruvians to work guano. The few inhabitants left are fair haired Polynesians. Since 1888 the island has been a Chilean convict station.—New York Telegram.

Then and Now.

Act I.

Tilkins—How is business, Wilkins? Wilkins—Can't make it go. At this rate I shall be bankrupt in another month. I don't seem to have any head for business.

Tilkins—No; you haven't. But you have a good start, and if you'll promise to let me run things I'll go in with you as partner.

Wilkins—Done. A friend in need is a friend indeed.

Act II.—Ten Years Later.

Guest.—What a magnificent place you have—everything that wealth could buy or hear long for! You have been wonderfully prosperous, Mr. Wilkins. Mr. Wilkins (sadly)—True, but, after all, I get only half the profits of my great establishment. I tell you, my friend, the mistake of my life was taking a partner.—London Scraps.

Fear of Premature Burial.

The fear of premature burial, which prompted the late Lord Burton to direct by his will that his heart should be removed from his body, has caused many well known men and women to order a surgical operation to be performed upon their bodies. Harriet Martineau left her doctor $10 to amputate her head, and Lady Burton directed that her heart should be pierced with a needle. The late Edmund Yates left instructions that his jugular vein should be severed, with a provision that a fee of 20 guineas should be paid for the purpose. Literary persons appear to have been particularly afraid of premature burial. Bishop Berkeley, Lord Lytton, Hans Andersen and Wilkie Collins all took measures to protect themselves from it.—Westminster Gazette.

Locations of Promotion.

Elzena, aged four, revealed in kindergarten lore and each day imparted to her young mother the many interesting things that the sweet faced teacher had told them. Among the vicissitudes of school life to be encountered was that of vaccination, which was new to the little one. After much explaining and reassuring this difficulty was safely passed. A few weeks later she returned one day from kindergarten in a whirl of excitement, exclaiming: "Mother, mother, I'm going to be promoted! Mother, will I be promoted on my arm or my leg?"—New York Times.

Hopewell

June 2—Mrs. Frank Cartwright was thrown from a buggy near Loysburg Gap on Sunday last while driving with her son. A shaft broke while descending a hill. She is confined to her bed and her condition is considered serious.

Memorial Day passed off quietly in Hopewell. In the morning Kay's Concert Band and members of the P. O. S. of A. and veterans decorated graves at Stone Church in Yellow Creek; Rev. Russell of Everett delivered the address. In the afternoon Rev. W. W. Reese delivered the address at Hopewell and the band, veterans, P. O. S. of A. and Sunday Schools decorated the graves. The people are commenting on the large number of people here on Memorial Day and yet no disturbance from drunkenness. The secret is easily told. The law compels the saloons to close on this day. It will be a wise provision when the law compels them to close up 365 days in the year.

Chalmer Weimert and family, who had the misfortune of being burn out in Mount Union, are visiting at his home near here. He was engaged in the restaurant business.

Our baseball team crossed bats with Riddlesburg on Memorial Day. The score was 6-4 in favor of Hopewell.

Frank Erhard, formerly a barber here but now of Roaring Spring, spent a few hours here on Memorial Day.

The address of Rev. Sieber on Tuesday night was well received. He is a very pleasing and impressive speaker. A goodly number of the business people of our town were present. He explained the enormous loss to the business man who extends credit as the saloon gets the money and the merchant a promise, and often not even a promise.

beautiful hall and, headed by the band, marched to the M. P. Church where the Sunday School joined in, then to the M. E. Church where that Sunday School also joined, then faced about and counter-marched to the I. O. O. F. Hall, where the overcrowded house was addressed by able speakers, S. A. Van Ormer of The Gazette being the principal one.

The crowd, both day and night, was the largest seen here in many a day. Fully one-fourth the people could not get into the hall. The festival at night was a success in every particular. The order was the best, and everybody was sober, which speaks well for our little dry town.

The two ball games resulted—Tea-berry 7, Centerville 28; Centerville, second nine, 15, Hitetown 14. There were too many visitors here to begin to name them.

JUNE ON THE GREAT LAKES

Restful, delightful, interesting, and instructive, there is no trip like that on the Great Lakes, those inland seas which form the border line between the United States and Canada. And June is one of the most charming Months in the year in which to take the trip.

For comfort the fine passenger steamships of the Anchor Line have no superiors. As well-appointed as the palatial ocean greyhounds which plow the Atlantic, their schedule allows sufficient time at all stopping places to enable the traveler to see something of the great lake cities and to view in daylight the most distinctive sights of the lakes, and the scenery which frames them.

The trip through the Detroit River, and through Lake St. Clair, with its great ship canal in the middle of the lake, thence through Lake Huron, the locking of the steamer through the great locks at the Soo, and the passage of the Portage Entry, lake and canal, across the upper end of Michigan are novel and interesting features.

The voyage from Buffalo to Duluth covers over eleven hundred miles in the five days' journey. Leaving Buffalo the steamships Juniata and Tionesta, make stops at Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, the Soo, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock, and Duluth.

The 1909 season opens on June 5, when the Steamer Tionesta will make her first sailing from Buffalo.

The Anchor Line is the Great Lake Annex of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the service measures up to the high standard set by the "Standard Railroad of America."

An illustrated folder, giving sailing dates of steamers, rates of fare, and other information is in course of preparation, and may be obtained when ready from any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent, who is also prepared to book passengers who may desire to take this trip through the Great Lakes and back.

Charles Oster, Oliver Oster and Dessie Stambaugh spent Saturday and Sunday in Schellsburg.

The St. Clairsville ball team played a game on Saturday with Alum Bank which ended in a victory for the latter, score 6-3.

George Speece from Windber is spending some time with home folks and friends in and near Osterburg.

L. Stambaugh went to Altoona Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Miley Griffith, of near Cessna, accompanied by Miss Bortz, spent Sunday at H. E. Mason's.

Defiance

June 2—The Broad Top Township High School has just closed one of the most successful years since its founding. The first feature of the closing week was the baccalaureate sermon preached by Rev. R. H. Colburn in the Defiance M. E. Church, May 23. We wish to say in passing that all who heard it considered it an excellent one, well delivered.

The final event, commencement, was held in the same church Wednesday, May 26, when the following program was rendered: March, Miss Mary E. McCabe; Sacre Selection; Invocation, Rev. R. H. Colburn; Oration, Ex Nihilo, Nihil Fit, Lloyd Aldstadt; Reading, The Attack on Battery Wagner, Ola Young; Reading, Gualberto's Victory, Pearl Stunkard; Oration, Great Peril of Unrestricted Immigration, Edwin Gamber; Address, What Can You Do? Dr. C. H. Gordinier; Presentation of Diplomas, William Lauder.

The program was interspersed throughout with music by H. C. Rose's double quartet; our people declare the music furnished by these young men is worthy of much praise, and I think it was highly enjoyed by all.

We are glad to say that the program rendered at this commencement by far surpassed anything given by this institution on similar occasions before. The young ladies and young men who had a part showed more freedom, self control and preparation than those in preceding years. As for Mr. Lauder and Dr. Gordinier, it is not necessary that I say anything; both are known and their past work but repeated itself. Much credit is due our active and able principal, Prof. W. Morton Edwards.

The outlook for our High School for the coming year is better than ever before. Our next year's senior class will number six, middle class six, and junior class, eighteen. Is this not encouraging?

Broad Top feels proud to say that her High School is of the same grade as the Everett and Bedford High Schools. She realizes that she can only hold this grade as long as she has a man with college training and experience as principal. Besides, a large part of the success of the Broad Top Schools depends upon the liberality and efficiency of her board in directing school affairs; the board has at all times been generous and at the same time very economic in dealing with the school funds.

The men of our town who had gone to Ohio to work have nearly all returned.

We have been informed by one who knows that the Colonial Iron Company will begin operations within the next three weeks; this will be welcome news to all, for our men have been idle since early this spring.

Woodbury

June 2—Clarence Bolger of Altoona spent Sunday with his parents at this place.

D. R. Stayer was a business visitor in Bedford on Tuesday.

H. W. Clouse, formerly a resident of this place but now of Roaring Spring, was a visitor in town yesterday. We welcome him back again.

S. B. Fluke arrived home after a few weeks visit in Petersburg, Va., and neighboring towns.

The baseball club of Woodbury will play Baker's Summit Saturday afternoon at this place.

Chalmer Bechtel, Aaron Bechtel and Edgar Guyer went to Altoona Monday to resume their work, after having a few days' vacation.

A festival will be held on the school ground next Saturday evening. The Woodbury Band will enliven the occasion. Everybody invited.

The Woodbury roller mills are almost shut down, owing to the scarcity and high price of wheat. It is expected they will run to their utmost capacity as soon as new wheat is obtainable.

The Woodbury Creamery Company agreed to pay 24 cents per pound for butter during the month of May; a remarkable price for this time of year, but there is a strong demand for its products.

Henry Guyer met with a misfortune while hiving a swarm of bees. He was wholly unprepared and the bees became aggravated by the shaking of a limb, which resulted in his being stung severely about the wrist.

Mr. Guyer was unconscious for fifteen minutes, when he rallied, but is still very sick.

Mann's Choice

June 1—J. W. Leonard, superintendent of the tannery, has been transferred to Titusville to take charge of a larger plant. That he may meet with success is our wish.

His father, S. E. Leonard of Hyndman, is temporarily filling his place. Quite a bunch of bark is being delivered here daily both by wagons and cars.

John G. Faupel has resigned his position at the tannery and will leave Monday for Braddock, where he will visit his sisters for a couple days.

From there he will go to San Francisco, where he will be employed by his uncle, John Faupel, who is a concrete contractor. May he be successful is the wish of your scribe.

Rev. Schilling of Hyndman has moved here and is employed as green stock inspector at the tannery.

Jacob Sides is having an addition put to his house, also a new roof. H. F. W. Miller, with his force of assistants, is doing the work.

Edward Cook is spending a week or two with his brother Jesse at State Line.

A very interesting game of ball was played here Saturday last between Buffalo Mills and Mann's Choice; the latter was successful, the score being 13-1. Mann's Choice has a good ball team and with a little more practice will be able to put up a very good game. They have fine ground to play on as the manager, J. P. Cuppett, has furnished the meadow between the tannery and town. The boys and the manager have done considerable work and put it in shape.

Truman S. Knipple, sub-division boss on P. R. R. at Hyndman, spent a couple days visiting friends and relatives here.

The Elk Tanning Company has had a new concrete walk put down from the tannery to the corner of Front Street.

Charles McCreary has accepted the position made vacant in the leach house by the resignation of John P. Faupel.

Miss Hazel Suter is spending a couple weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Ambrose Lehman, in Altoona.

Grit.

Fyan

June 2—Berry Bence and wife spent Saturday night and Sunday with relatives at Crumb, Somerset County.

David Deaner and wife Sundayed with Timothy McCreary and family.

Ralph McCreary and Grandpa Bence are both wearing a broad smile since the arrival of a young daughter at the home of the former.

Simon McCreary made a flying trip to Johnstown last week on business.

Peter McCreary and family spent Sunday as the guests of William Hinson and wife, at Hellville.

Prof. A. N. Lyons of Buckstown, Somerset County, spent Sunday at his home near here.

Harry Deaner and wife, of Windber, came across the mountain on Saturday to attend the Memorial services at Schellsburg. They returned home on Sunday.

Howard Egly made a business call in our town since our last letter.

George and Charles Dobson, of Stoyestown, passed through our city Sunday with their large new touring car, en route to New Paris to visit their parents.

George Weyant transacted business at New Buena Vista on Monday.

Carrie Ellenberger, who has been housed-up with rheumatism for the past six weeks, has made little change for the better.

John McKinney killed a six-foot black snake a few days ago.

Prof. H. H. Deaner and wife, of Hyndman, were visitors at the former's home near here for a few days the past week.

Grant Manges has hung out his shingle at Schellsburg as saddler and shoe repairer. He also keeps a fine lot of new harness on hand.

Riddlesburg

June 2—The Broad Top District Sabbath School Association will meet in convention in the Brethren Church at this place June 5 and 6.

Saturday evening Rev. W. W. Reese of Hopewell will make an address on some live Sunday School subject, and Sunday the following topics will be discussed: "What are the greatest needs today in Sunday School work?" "Importance of attendance by Parents." "Work with the Class Outside of Sunday School." "Difficulties and Hindrances in Sunday School Work." "The Sunday School as an Educational Factor." Miss Alice Wishart, a missionary from India, is expected to be with us. The Riddlesburg M. E. Church choir will be present and be prepared to furnish some special music.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Stuckey last week added to their already well furnished home a very fine upright piano. It is a beautiful piece of furniture, and its tones are as pleasant to the ear as its beautiful finish is to the eye.

There was nothing special going on at Riddlesburg on Memorial Day so most of our young people spent the day away from home. We are informed that our first baseball nine was "fanned out" on Monday by the Hopewell boys to the tune of 6 to 0.

Quite a number of our people attended the High School commencement exercises at Defiance last Wednesday night, and we do not hesitate to say that the exercises were a success from start to finish. The work done by the students reflects credit upon both student and teacher.

The graduates this year are Floyd E. Aldstadt and Edwin H. Gamber. These were the first gentlemen graduates since we graduated the first class. Their orations were well delivered and showed care in preparation. The readings by Misses Ola Young and Pearl Stunkard were also well rendered.

Dr. C. H. Gordinier of Shipensburg gave an excellent talk on "What Can You Do?" which was well received and enjoyed by all. The music was in charge of Rev. H. C. Rose of Saxton and consisted of quartets and choruses, all of which was greatly enjoyed. The ushers did all in their power to accommodate those who came to attend the exercises but in spite of their efforts quite a crowd had to be turned away.

Last year we graduated only one, this year two, and next year there should be six. This is the fifth class that has been graduated since the school was organized in 1903. We are much pleased with the high grade of work that Prof. Edwards and his assistants are doing for our children and it is hoped that the same grade of work may be continued. The presentation address was made by our honored president of the school board, Mr. Lauder, in which he gave some wholesome advice to the graduates.

Point

June 2—Wilson Furgeson of Altoona has been visiting among his friends in Napier and East St. Clair Townships for the last week.

J. E. Fellers of Osterburg was a Point visitor on Tuesday.

The Memorial services in Schellsburg on Saturday last were, as is usual at that place, of the best, as the people in general all take a great interest in the Memorial service. There were between thirty-five hundred and four thousand persons in attendance. The address delivered by Rev. King was considered the best that we have had. The music was good. Through the effort of Prof. Jacob Poorman the New Paris Band was employed. He also got together one of the finest choirs that could be had and by continuous practice they were able to give the audience the best of music. The Patriotic Order turned out almost their full membership. They take as great interest in decorating the old veterans' graves as the old soldiers themselves, in fact more than some of the old comrades who are able but do not take any part. Every year the number of the old comrades attending the services grows less. Your correspondent noticed that fact this year as quite a number that have been regular attendants were absent, and on making inquiry found that some were sick or had sickness in their families.

MILLINERY MATTERS.

Some Novelties in Fancy Straws—The Cabriolet Bonnets.

Quite a millinery novelty is the straws with knitted, crocheted and astrakhan effects, all trimmed with what may be justly termed avalanches of flowers of the most wonderful hues, which certainly have no replicas in nature's handiwork.

The revived cabriolet bonnet has been facetiously termed a fruit crate covered with garden truck. Apples, pears, currants, cherries, are used as trimming. In size the bonnet is not quite as large as a bushel basket. The plaid princess skirt seen in the cut will be exceedingly useful for wear over lingerie shirt waists left over from last season.

A pattern of this princess skirt may be had in six sizes—from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number (458), and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Sleeve Hints For the Woman in Doubt as to What to Wear.

Here are a few sleeve hints. The too scant sleeve is as bad as the too full model. Elegant simplicity is the keynote of all the sleeves of the spring. They are a trifle fuller than they have been all winter, and the shoulders are set lower on the arm. This spring and summer will see the return of jumper dresses, but such careful and elaborately made ones that they would be scarcely recognized as jumpers when placed beside those made a year or two ago.

The smart woman nowadays discards black and white hose and has stockings to match each costume. Shot stockings of every shade go well with all kinds of gowns, the range being down from the smartest blues to gold and red.

A few of the white petticoats have flounces embroidered in colored dots, pale pink and blue.

However extravagant styles may be in other ways, they are decidedly economical in materials.

The frock seen in the picture is very attractive carried out in dark linen, with the edges buttonholed and scalloped with heavy cotton or bound with braid.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

A pattern of this linen dress may be had in four sizes—for children from two to eight years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number (459), and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson X.—Second Quarter,
For June 6, 1909.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Jas. iii, 1-12.
Memory Verses 8-10—Golden Text,
Prov. 21-23—Commentary Prepared
by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

We had last week the option of a Whitsuntide lesson on the Holy Spirit, and such a study would fit well into either the lesson of last week on the outward manifestation of faith or this one on the inward victory over that which too often controls the tongue. The Holy Spirit, having full control in His own house—for we are temples of the Holy Ghost—is the great secret of a correct outer or inner life. We speak of desiring more of the Spirit, whereas He is ever desiring more of us. According to chapter iv, 5, R. V., margin, "The Spirit whom He caused to dwell in us jealously desireth us." God is always more ready to bless than we are to be blessed. This lesson, like the last, comes under the head of the second phase of our salvation, the manifestation of the life of Christ in us. He never sinned either in thought or word, but what shall be said of us who so often fail? And can we ever expect to be the perfect people of verse 2 who offend not in word? A great horse is turned about as the driver wills by a bit in his mouth, and a great ship is turned about by a very small helm, and the tongue, which no one can tame, affects our whole being, and too often not for good. The trouble is in the heart (verse 14), for our Lord said that those things that proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart and defile us (Matt. xv, 18, 19). The lesson says that out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing, and, as the same fountain cannot send forth both sweet water and bitter, there must be in the believer two fountains, the old and the new, that which is carnal and sinful and that which is born of God, which cannot sin.

The old is earthly and devilish; the new is from above, pure and peaceable (15-18). The flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh, and these are contrary the one to the other. But if we live in the Spirit, walk in the Spirit and are led by the Spirit we shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh (Gal. v, 16-25). If we could keep our mouths and our tongues we would certainly keep our souls from much trouble, as the Golden Text says, but who is equal to it? When we consider it we feel like saying with Asa, "Help us, O Lord our God, for we rest on Thee, and in Thy name we go," or with Jehoshaphat, "We have no might, neither know we what to do, but our eyes are upon Thee" (II Chron. xiv, 11; xx, 12). In this as in all the Christian life we need to learn our utter helplessness in ourselves; that in us—that is, in our flesh—dwelleth no good thing (Rom. vii, 18), but that in the Lord have we righteousness and strength (Isa. xlv, 24).

From above alone is the power, and, fully yielded to Him who is able and who has said, "I, the Lord do keep it; I will water it every moment; lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day" (Isa. xxvii, 3), we may rely upon Him to do in and through us what to us is impossible. With Ps. xli, 14, as our prayer, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer," and also Ps. cxli, 3, "Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips," we can determine, like David, to be deaf and dumb at times (Ps. xxxviii, 18; xxxix, 9), and by His word hid in our hearts we may be kept from sinning against Him (Ps. cxix, 11). We may become so occupied with God our Father through Jesus Christ that we shall not care to talk about aught but Himself and His kingdom. Then our words will be few and well ordered, and, as out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh, if the heart is right the words will be right too. Righteousness and peace and quietness should be the characteristics of a child of God (Isa. xxxii, 17), not worldliness nor envying nor strife nor mere talk.

The citizen of heaven cannot aim to be what is called by the world "good company" for the sake of the world's good opinion. The world says of some, "How entertaining, how well read, how much they have traveled, how intelligently they can talk on any topic, how beautifully they can sing or recite!" and thus people are flattered and made much of and sought after, but the God in whose hand their breath is and whose are all their ways is not glorified. See Jas. iv, 4; I John ii, 15-17, and decide whether you will live as an enemy or a friend of God, whether for the world's approval or His approval, whether to be well versed in the things of this world or of the world to come. Jesus was wholly for God and the good of men, but never for the approval of men. He did and said always those things that pleased the Father. He came down from heaven to do the will of Him who sent Him. He lived in heaven even while on the earth (John iii, 13). We are here in His stead, wholly for Him, not to talk, but to do, not to manifest what we are or can do, but what He is and can do in and through us. With Jesus on the throne there will not be both sweet water and bitter, but it will be true of us, "It is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father who speaketh in you" (Matt. x, 20). With such a promise as "I will put my words in thy mouth" let the Lord put forth His hand and touch our mouths and all will be well (Jer. i, 9).

For the woman who loves tailored smartness. Plain you'd call them at first glance, but a closer look reveals the intricacy of their tailored adornments. Straps, buttons and bias folds form the trimming on many of them which we are now selling at $1.25.

Black Dress Goods

Mohair, Voile and Panama, each worth $1.00, now 75c. Fine imported materials and each a most worthy representative of its class, and most useful in a woman's wardrobe. Little need to tell you of their serviceableness, for you could scarcely pick three fabrics that are greater favorites with women. The chief point is that they are here today at 75c a yard, and if you need them by all means buy now.

A Few Things to Remember

- 1st—If in doubt about your dress—buy a Home Journal Pattern.
- 2d—That this store keeps the most complete assortment of fine dress goods to be found in this part of the state.
- 3rd—That the Low Shoes shown at this store this season are the snappiest and hand-somest goods ever brought to this town.

The Ladies' Home Journal for June is full of entertaining and instructive matter. You can't afford to miss such choice reading when it only costs a dime and a half.

Wash! Trimmings

Lots of fancy trimming braids are here to decorate your tub dresses in a variety of handsome patterns at 10c to 25c a yard.

Even a Man

Knows that a letter written on the wrong kind of paper is as much an offence to good form as a misspelled one. "Correct Stationery" is not necessarily expensive. Many of the most attractive Eaton, Crane & Pike styles sell for less than you have paid for inferior and imperfect papers.

And you're not asked to give them the benefit of a doubt. Their absolute correctness and excellent quality are vouched for by the "Made in Berkshire" trademark, which appears on every box.

We will be pleased to show you our assortment of Eaton, Crane & Pike writing papers.
